

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

ORIGIN AND ORGANIZATION

.. OF THE ..

WESTON TOWN LIBRARY.

In the winter of 1856-57, the citizens of Weston, in response to a public notice, assembled in their town hall to consider by what means the general intelligence of the town could best be promoted. This meeting decided by vote that the object under consideration could be most economically and effectually secured by a free public library. A committee to initiate the movement at a suitable time was accordingly appointed.

In the summer of 1857, by request of the above committee, each of the benevolent societies connected with the several parishes in town nominated twelve persons—five gentlemen and seven ladies—to consult together, and determine what plan of procedure would most acceptably and efficiently accomplish the object in view. These persons, after mature deliberation, decided that the only feasible way of proceeding would be by the voluntary contributions of the people; and a committee was appointed to prepare and distribute explanatory circulars, and to solicit contributions. This committee attended to its duty, and the name of each contributor, whether in money or books, is recorded in books kept for that purpose, with the amount given. Subsequently, it was voted to solicit the town to establish a library, and, if it should do so, to present to it for disbursement the money collected. The town, in a legal town-meeting held Nov. 3, 1857, established a library for the use of all the inhabitants of a specified age, and chose a committee which was authorized to receive donations. All property previously given for the purpose was delivered to it.

Among the volumes which formed the nucleus of the new library were the books contained in the six district school libraries. This will explain the presence of a large number of duplicates of unimportant books. Another interesting collection of books given at this time was the remaining volumes of the Weston Social Library. This library, maintained by the Rev. Samuel Kendall at his home during the last part of the eighteenth and the early part of the nineteenth century, was absolutely free to all the inhabitants of Weston. Some of these volumes, now more than a century old, are still on our shelves.

For several years all books not presented were purchased by money voluntarily contributed, the town in its corporate capacity defraying the incidental expenses only. At the present time, the incidental expenses and the salary of the librarian are paid from the town treasury. The income for the purchase of books is derived mainly from the dog tax, appropriated annually from the town treasury, and the receipts from certain permanent funds presented to the library to be invested and their income to be expended annually for books. These are:—The Merriam Fund, one thousand dollars, given by Charles Merriam, April 12, 1859; The Isaac Fiske Fund, three hundred dollars, bequeathed to the Weston Town Library by the will of Isaac Fiske and received March 29, 1861; The Charles H. Fiske Fund, one hundred dollars, given by Charles H. Fiske in 1873; The Charles A. Hastings Fund one thousand dollars, bequeathed to the Weston Town Library by the will of Charles A. Hastings, and received Dec. 11, 1894; The Gowing Fund, five thousand dollars, bequeathed to the Weston Town Library by the will of Henry A. Gowing, and received Jan. 21, 1896.

All of the above named funds are at present held by the town, the library receiving interest on them semi-annually.

For the past six years the library has received annually from Mr. Francis Blake the amount of his salary as Selectman and Overseer of the Poor, which money has, in accordance with his wishes, been expended for books of reference.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

1. The library shall be open every Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday,—excepting on legal holidays,—from 2 to 5 and from 6:30 to 9 P. M. No books will be delivered on the last Saturday in February, nor for one week beginning with that day, although the library will be open as usual at that time for the return of books and for the use of the reading room.

2. Any inhabitant of the town over twelve years of age may have access to the library, and may take therefrom two books at a time, provided that only one of the volumes is in general demand.

3. Any person not known to the librarian must present a satisfactory recommendation from some known resident of the town before taking books from the library.

4. A book may be kept from the library for the time stated on the label upon its cover. Any book not in general demand, or not of recent purchase, may upon its return to the library be renewed for two weeks, unless some person who has called for it is awaiting its return at the library. Unbound magazines can be kept out one week only. A fine of four cents a week, or one cent for each library day, will be incurred for every day a book or magazine is retained after it becomes due.

The librarian shall not be required to exchange a book on the same day on which it is taken out.

5. All books must be returned to the library on or before the last Saturday in February under a penalty of a fine of five cents a volume for each day's delay in its return.

6. If any book be lost or materially injured, the person to whom it stands charged shall pay a fine sufficient to replace the book or to complete the set, if it belongs to a set.

7. The librarian may withhold the use of the library from those persons from whom fines are due, and from any persons who misuse or damage books.

8. Teachers and clergymen who wish to take out more than the number of books allowed by rule 2 may do so, provided that only one of the extra books is in general demand.

The above rules supersede all previous rules conflicting therewith.

NOTICE.

Special attention is called to the following law of the Commonwealth, which applies to unbound periodicals as well as to bound volumes:—

“An act for the Preservation of Books and Other Property belonging to Public Libraries: Whoever wilfully and maliciously, or wantonly and without cause, writes upon, injures, defaces, tears, or destroys any book, plate, picture, engraving or statue belonging to any law, town, city, or other public library, shall be punished by a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than fifty dollars, or by imprisonment in the jail not exceeding six months, for every such offence.”

Approved, Feb. 26, 1872.

DIRECTIONS FOR THE USE OF THE CATALOGUE.

Every book is catalogued under the name of its author, its subject, and, in many cases, its title. Works of fiction are catalogued under the author's name and the title.

The letter F standing before a number indicates that the book of that number is fiction. In the same way all juvenile books have the letter J before their numbers; although many of the books so marked are equally interesting to adults. (In the card catalogue, blue cards indicate fiction, pink ones stand for juvenile literature, and white ones are used in all other departments.)

Books marked Ref. belong in the reference department, and are not to be taken from the library except by special permission of a member of the library committee.

Certain public documents are catalogued without numbers. Any one wishing to take out one of these volumes should inquire for it by its title.
